DANVILLE.

The Chasse des Fees met Monday and organized for the winter.

The remains of J. C. Hill, of Lincoln county, were buried in Danville Thursday.

The address of Gov. J. Proctor Knott to the law class Tuesday afternoon was much enjoyed.

The Ladies Guild of the Episcopal church will sell cakes and other good things to eat every Saturday.

Miss Lillian Bohon entertains the Junior Social Club Friday evening.

Mrs. Dr. Bagle entertained Thursday afternoon in honor of her lady friends.

The Imperial Insurance Company has settled satisfactorily with Yeager & Rice. They received $2,955, keeping all damaged articles, feed and everything. As soon as the building is ready they will continue business at the same place.

The funeral services of Miss Adah Rawlings, only daughter of Prof. J. W. Rawlings, were held in the Christian church Thursday morning, after which the remains were taken to Parksville for burial. She was 17 years of age and a most lovable character.

There was quite an electrical storm Monday night. Lightning crossed the sky, lightning, thunder answered in order, muttering sounds of sullen wrath. During the night the lightning killed four cows for A. E. Handley. Destroyed several tons of hay for W. F. Delong, and a fine steer for M. J. Harris.

The home missionary society of the 1st Presbyterian church met with Jas. Lane Allen Monday afternoon. Horace Bowman and Charles Woods are suffering from bruises, the result of a runaway. They were driving in a spring wagon and when turning the corner at Main and Maple Streets, the horse had a collision with a boy on horseback, overturning the wagon. Both had a narrow escape. Bowman was dragged for some distance and is suffering from a sprained wrist.

Rev. Henry Miller and Dr. L. H. Blanton were guests of Dr. E. M. Green Tuesday. Dr. and Mrs. Green attended the Presbytery in Perryville Wednesday. Mrs. Howard Rice and Mrs. Louis Landrum, of Lancaster, were in Danville shopping. Mrs. J. W. Alcorn and daughter, Miss Annie, of Stanford, were in Danville Tuesday. Dr. George Green is visiting his brother, Dr. Ed Green, of Louisville. Mrs. A. S. Drake is visiting friends in Lexington. Mrs. Mary Bowman, Misses Virginia Bowman, Sue McRoberts and Mrs. E. S. Rowland and Charles Caldwell and Master Logan Caldwell are in Louisville this week. Hart Goodloe has entered the Medical College at Louisville and John Hoskins the school of pharmacy. Herford Smith left this week for New York to enter Bellevue Medical College. He is a hard student and we predict for him a bright future. Prof. Wood has returned to Atlanta, where he has a lucrative position in the school of Technology. Arthur VanWinkle has returned from Louisville. Mrs. Charles Cecil is expected home this week from Michigan. James McKenzie, of the class of '98, has entered the law department of Centre College. Mrs. B. F. Phillips is with Mrs. Mary Bull in Louisville. Mrs. Gashwiler entertained at 6 o'clock dinner in honor of Mrs. Williams, of Evanston, Ill.

HUBBLE.

Dr. Herring presented Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cox with a fine girl last Tuesday. Elder George Gowen's meeting at the Christian church here closed Sunday night with 17 additions.

Will Walker is at home from the war department, and all are glad to see him again. Geo. Wood and J. C. Eubanks have gone to Lawrenceburg on a business trip.

Mrs. Newel McQuay died Tuesday morning of typhoid fever and heart trouble after a short illness. Her remains were interred in the Blackberry grave yard Wednesday evening. She left a loving husband and one little child to mourn her departure, who have our deepest sympathy.

Rankin Bros., of Wayne county, bought some mule colts here Monday at an average of $20. G. A. Swinebroad sold them some yearling mules at $45. Luce Bros. bought some yearling steers at $10. D. N. Prewitt bought some shots of R. L. Hubble at $5. S. Danbar bought 26 line Southdown ewes of D. N. Prewitt at $5 per head.

Miss Lola Small, daughter of Rev. Sam Small, the evangelist, has joined the Della Fox company, and says she is willing to don tights if her role calls for them. She is a handsome brunette of 22, and has had two husbands. The last one is Stuart Ford, whom she refused to divorce because she expects to share the property he will inherit from his mother. That is, if the old woman ever dies, which Miss Small thinks now is not probable.

MIDDLEBURG.

Mrs. Fred Delk and Mrs. McD. Jones have been wrestling with the chills, but are better at this writing.

Sorghum making is the order of the day here just now and old Casey is keeping up her reputation for lasses. Swope and Baxter have rented about 70 acres of wheat land of Mr. Alex Hicks. They have the land all broken and have bought a new drill and have begun putting it in. This will be the largest crop of wheat ever sown in this section.

A protracted meeting is in progress at Grove conducted by Rev. Middleton. Rev. Nathan Price, a minister of the Campbellite persuasion, will preach at Turkey Knob on the 2nd Sunday at 11 o'clock. The Baptist church is without a pastor and a good preacher of that faith might get a job by applying.

Boys Spears and wife came down Saturday to see their parents. Ed and Robt. Keeney, Clarence Coleman, Robt. Hall and Zach Thomas are at home enjoying a 30 days' furlough. All except Ed Keeney belong to the 2nd Kentucky and they are cherishing the hope that they will be mustered out on their return to the regiment.

J. C. Coulter has about recovered from injuries sustained in a runaway last week. It was a close call for him and it is a great wonder that he was not killed. His buggy was completely demolished and three panels of fence knocked into a cocked hat, besides minor damages done to property in the immediate vicinity. Mr. Coulter has repaired Mr. Nathan Hicks' fence and there is not likely to be a suit for damages.

T. S. B.

The attendance at Janie Wash Institute is 110. There are no male teachers this term.

George R. Jeter, the undertaker, has recently recovered and otherwise improved the looks of his undertaking establishment.

Moses Bell, an old Federal soldier of 65 winters, and Miss Josie Ashbury, of 17 summers, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony Sunday.

Jason Wesley resumed teaching at the Turkey Knob school Monday after having been laid up for several weeks with sprains caused by a fall. Walter Gann, of Co. H., 2nd Kentucky, is visiting his sister and other relatives in Wayne county.

Casey is full of soldiers at present. Among them are Frank Barger, of Co. F., 12th U. S. Infantry, who was in the battle of El Caney and the charge on the block house, also Mitchell Perkins, of the regular army, who was in the thickest of the fray from start to finish, but came out without a scratch. Perkins has been in the army 12 years. He said at one time at Santiago he could have walked a quarter of a mile stepping on the dead, wounded and dying Americans.

Politics at present in Casey is very dull. I have been back home now a week and a little better and I have for the first time to hear a man speak or say a word about political matters. But there promises to be "some hot old times" in the "bloody 11th" and with the Goebel election law, a fair count, three candidates in the field, the democrats can find one consolation in the division of votes, and that is, that there will be a Tye (tie.)

Mrs. J. M. Durham is visiting friends and relatives at her old home in Taylor county. Mr. James Coffey and daughter, Miss Nora, have returned from a business trip to Louisville. G. Preston Fogle has returned to Ann Harbor, Mich., where he is studying law. E. Gifford went to Liberty Monday on business. Jeff Short, Jr., left Monday morning for Hoosier, but when he got to McKinney he took the notion that "Ole Kalinuck" is the best State on earth and returned home.

CLARENCE COLEMAN.

The President not only appointed Alger, Secretary of War, despite his tainted army record, but he made Henry C. Corbin, Adjutant General, and induced Congress to raise his rank to major general. Corbin's record has been unearched. He was twice court-martialed during the civil war, once for "cowardice in face of the enemy."

A Cincinnati weather prophet says that October will be one of rain, dense fogs, heavy frosts, cold and cyclonic winds. The rains at times will be very heavy. The winter will be an early one—a long severe winter, with good ice crops. The month of January, 1899, will be the coldest January known in this section of the country for many years.

Inspired by a desire to honor the memory of her father, who was one of the Bonanza Kings of the Golden State, Miss Cora Jane Flood has devoted her property, worth $3,000,000, to the cause of education. Included in the gift to the University of California are her palatial home and grounds at Menlo Park.

There are 6,390 saloons and 583 churches in Chicago. This makes one saloon to every 281 of the population and one church to every 3,087. These saloons cost Chicago over $25,000,000, the churches less than three million.

The Baptist Orphans' Home at Louisville has reared for 1,038 children in its existence of 29 years and have found homes for all but 19 of them at the age to which they are cared for. Of the number 19 only have died, a very small percentage.

A centennial sermon will be preached at the M. E. Church, South, Nicholasville, Sunday morning, October 2, by the Rev. E. B. Pearce, D. D., president of Kentucky Wesleyan College, setting forth the pioneer work of Methodism in Nicholasville and Jessamine county.

In order to help Rev. Geo. O. Barnes, who was cut off from his usual evangelistic tour this summer by the war, Mrs. James Schley Hook, of 251 Rawson Street, Atlanta, has started a chain for his benefit and it is going nobly forward. Only 10 cents is asked, and each person is requested to make four copies of the letter and send them to as many persons.

Of the 25 churches in the Tate's Creek Association, Glend in Madison has the largest membership, 294, and had the greatest increase by baptism last year, 21. The Stanford church has 224 members, had an increase by baptism of seven during the year and 15 by letter, while the decrease by letter was 26. The total number of baptisms reported from all the churches was 113.

The Louisville Conference of the M. E. Church, South, condemned Sunday trains, Sunday newspapers, Sunday base ball and all other Sabbath amusements or enterprises. The report on salaries showed that the average amount during the past year was $455, which is higher than it has been for years. The committee on temperance commended the W. C. T. U. and the Interdenominational Temperance Union and condemned the use of tobacco in any form by ministers.

The Ashland, Va. Herald, says that Mrs. Emma Lee Vaughan, of that place, has donated $35,000 to the Randolph Macon College to be known as the "I. N. Vaughan Memorial Fund," $25,000 of which is left in the hands of the executive committee of the board of the trustees and the president, to be invested and the proceeds expended upon indigent young men seeking higher christian education, such young men of Hanover county being preferred. The sum of $10,000 is to be set aside to establish a Chair of History.

HUSTONVILLE.

J. B. Rout sold to L. E. Fariss, of Lexington, a four-year-old mare for $225.

W. C. Greening has sold to John Carson his farm for $3,000 or $55 per acre.

Squire L. B. Adams has rented his farm to John Badgett and will move to the Peacock property in town.

Kendrick Smiley, son of G. G. Smiley, died Wednesday of typhoid fever, aged 20. He was assistant teamster in Capt. W. B. Penny's company, and came home sick.

Walter C. Greening lost a $980 check Wednesday. It was drawn on the First National Bank of Stanford and signed by James Carson. It was payable to John Carson, who had endorsed it to Mr. Greening.

Miss Sydney Carter, aged 23, daughter of Mr. Thomas Carter, died Tuesday of typhoid fever and was buried in the cemetery here Wednesday, after services by Rev. B. J. Pinkerton. She was a splendid young woman and her death is the subject of much regret.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

H. E. Brooks, of Rockcastle, and Miss Mattie Turner, of this county, were married at Henry Turner's Tuesday.

Lillian Russell, who has already sent three husbands to grass, is preparing to wed another, Jesse Lewishon, a copper merchant.

Dr. Isaac Gippert has just married his 7th wife at Wabash, Ind. As his other six are dead, it looks like he has a way of putting them out of the way.

If rumors are true there will be a dozen or more marriages in and around town within the next month or so, and some of Stanford's prettiest girls will be the brides.

The marriage of Prof. K. F. Postal, and Miss Annie Robinson, will take place at the home of the bride October 6. She is the daughter of the late W. R. Robinson, Esq., is one of the society leaders of Garrard, and is quite handsome. Prof. Postal is from Columbus, O., and has been assistant principal in Garrard College for two years.

Miss Sarah Lee Vivion and Mr. Thomas Clarence Wilson will be married at Harrodsburg, Oct. 12, and go to Indianapolis to live. The groom is a stepson of C. L. Holmes, the drummer.

Dare-footed and bare-headed, Miss Edna Belcher, a Warren county girl, rode behind her lover, Charles Chaffin, eloping to Tennessee, where they were married. The bride is only 14 years old.

The engagement is announced of Miss Emily Hazelrigg, the daughter of Judge J. H. Hazelrigg, of the Kentucky court of appeals, to Mr. Thos. Clark Bradley, of Lexington. The ceremony will occur at the bride's home in Frankfort, December 6th.

Charles V. Cohn, son of Col. Cohn, of Louisville, was married at Jeffersonville to Miss Delphine Love, of St. Louis, but claims that he was so drunk he does not remember the ceremony. He also says the girl was "in her cups" at the time, and that he does not intend to live with her as his wife, but will procure a divorce.

Miss Love, or rather Mrs. Cohn, has returned to St. Louis and in an interview shows that she is hot stuff. She admits that she acted the fool in marrying Cohn, but she was anxious to go on the stage and he said he could help her in her ambition. "I do not intend to live with him," said she. "Indeed I wouldn't wipe my feet on him, and if I hear any more of his claim that I was drunk at the time, I shall send my father to interview him."

SEWELL-PENCE.—Wednesday at 10 A. M. at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Pence, Miss Mary Eliza Pence was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph Sewell, of near Independence, Mo., Rev. W. S. Grinstead officiating. The attendants were Miss Annie Pence and Joe Chancellor, and Miss Lucy Chancellor and Forest McClary. After the ceremony, which was a beautiful one, the guests, about 75 in number, were invited to a delightful breakfast, which was greatly enjoyed and then the happy pair drove to the depot accompanied by many of their friends, and took the train for their Western home. The bride was clad in a gray traveling suit and looked a picture of loveliness. She is a very excellent young lady and lovable in every way. The groom is a well to do farmer and is said to be a man of fine business qualifications and good habits, and he has shown his good sense by choosing a Kentucky bride. Good cheer and good luck to them.

Gov. Bradley does not think it absolutely certain that the Second Kentucky will be mustered out. The regiment was given 30 days' furlough, and he and other military authorities think that the question of mustering out depends on the situation at the end of that time.

W. P. WALTON.

Democratic Nominee For Congress,
HON. G. G. GILBERT,
 Of Shelby County.

SENATOR MASON, of Chicago, is one of the administration's warmest friends and yet he says that the blundering of the war department was "shameful, disgraceful, infernal, damnable—there is no word or term too strong to use. This is the crime of the century, the tragedy of the nation. Our soldiers have not poured out their heart's blood on the altar of their country, but have been crucified by blundering and plundering officialdom. The world is stricken with horror. Christianity is aghast. I do not criticize the army itself. Officers and men have behaved and fought as Americans. Their gallantry is the one theme we can go back to with pleasure. But I do condemn the commissary departments and the medical departments with all my strength and power." As Senator Mason is a leading republican the charge can not be made that his words are for political effect. They are the truth every word of them and spoken by a man who knows that his party will be held responsible for the almost willful murder of our soldiers, who fell at the hands of ignorant and vicious mismanagement and not at the hands of the foe. McKinley has sent out a whitewashing commission to saddle the responsibility on scapegoats, but congress will be called on to make a thorough and impartial investigation of the whole miserable business. A democratic congress would be sure to have the work well done. Let us help to change the political complexion of that body by electing Gilbert and the other democratic nominees in Kentucky.

FANNY DAVENPORT, (Mrs. Melbourne McDowell), died Monday night at her Summer home at Duxbury, Mass., of enlargement of the heart caused by her continued attempts of the last 20 years to reduce her flesh, which had destroyed the symmetry of her form. She was born in London in 1849 and came to this country in 1854, when she began a dramatic career which placed her among the distinguished of the profession. Those who have seen her Cleopatra can never forget it. She was twice married, first to E. H. Price, from whom she obtained a divorce and then to her leading man, Mr. McDowell, with whom she lived most happily.

TEDDY ROOSEVELT, the Rough Rider, rode rough shod into the republican convention at Saratoga, N. Y., and was nominated for governor on the first ballot, receiving 553 votes to 218 for Gov. Black, present incumbent. Then a full State ticket was nominated, the whole thing showing the fine Italian hand of Senator Platt, who is in full command. The platform is very laudatory of McKinley, declares for territorial expansion and condemns everything democratic, especially the declaration for free silver and free trade.

EMMETT LOGAN, who looks from nature up to nature's God, is moved to remark in the Louisville Times: "If you don't believe that dictum about God's making the country and man's making the town, just turn out some soon day and make a critical comparison of the two pieces of handiwork. Not even in the merry month of May or the rosy month of June did the country ever look greener, sweeter or more inviting than in this last week of September."

MCKINLEY is catching hades all around for appointing Huidekoper to look after the health of 30,000 soldiers, simply because that veterinary cured a pet dog of Mrs. McKinley. To such cattle as Huidekoper is largely due the alarming number of deaths among the soldiers. Tell McKinley what you think of his pusillanimous appointments when you go into the election booth in November by voting for Geo. G. Gilbert.

It has been understood all along that Gen. Fitzhugh Lee was to be placed in command of the department of Havana, but nobody but the marines took any stock in the story. Now it is definitely stated that Gen. Wade is to be placed in command and that the occupation is to occur not later than Oct. 20.

The commissioners to raise $10,000 for the battleship Kentucky's silver service, sent out 12,000 letters at a cost of about $300 and got $196.35 in return. Money is too scarce and there is too much other need for it for people to respond very unanimately to such a call.

THE versatile and only Miss Elvira Sydney Miller, of the Louisville Times, says that a sealskin sack is the most fetching thing with which to beguile a woman and make her the slave of the man who gives it, and being one of the dear creatures she ought to know.

The Kansas populists demand that the State furnish protection against fire, lightning and tornado at cost.

HON. THOMAS F. BAYARD, ex-Senator from Delaware, Secretary of State under Cleveland during his first term and Ambassador to England during his second, passed away at Karlstein, Mass., Wednesday, aged 70 years. He had been ill a long time and the end had been expected for a month. He came of a most distinguished family, four generations in succession being U. S. Senators from Delaware. Mr. Bayard was a scholar and a statesman, whose record furnishes a bright page on his country's as well as his party's history.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Col. W. J. Bryan is sick at Washington with a fever.

On account of factional party differences State Agricultural Commissioner Moore has forced his assistant, J. M. Faulkner, to resign.

The New York democratic convention after effecting an organization, adjourned till yesterday. Who the nominee will be or whether the Chicago platform will be endorsed are open questions.

W. T. Fowler, republican nominee for congress, has received a formal proposition from Col. Geo. W. Jolly, who also claims the nomination, offering to run the race over again before the people. Judge James Breathitt to be the chairman of the next convention.

The New Jersey democrats nominated Elvin W. Crane for governor, but declined to make specific endorsement of the Chicago platform, owing to local issues. The miserable incompetency of the war department is denounced and Ex-Gov. Griggs scored for defending Algerism.

The Winchester Democrat says that while there was quite a demand for cattle Monday, the sellers had to make concessions and many of the 2,000 on the market were left unsold. The highest price—4.35—was obtained for some plain cattle, weight 1,350 pounds; steers, 700 to 800 pounds, 3½ to 3c; lighter ones 3 to 3½c; fat bull sold for 3c. There was a strong demand for mule colts and many were sold. Common mules brought from $18 to $30. A private sale of 70 cattle, 1,300 pounds, at 4½ is also noted.

A Kansas City stockman tells this story about the commanding general of the army: "When Gen. Miles was fighting the Indians he always held a short period of prayer before entering into an engagement. On one occasion he had followed the Indian trail for several days, and came upon them in the middle of the afternoon. He immediately went into his season of prayer. The chaplain who accompanied the expedition was exceedingly long-winded. In fact, he seemed to forget that he was out on the prairie, within reach of a hostile foe, and labored in true camp-meeting style. When he had finished his request to the Almighty that Gen. Miles might come out victorious in the righteous cause, it was suddenly announced that the enemy had flanked to the army's rear, and stolen all the pack animals. Miles was disconsolate, and made an order that the prayer should be curtailed."

A Chicago soldier gives utterance to his joy at the prospect of being murdered out in that graphic but somewhat mystifying language: "Glad?" he said. "Glad? Well, I will be so everlastingly tickled that I am going to get out of the army that I am going to put on a double-dashed hyphenated 'cilt' and I ain't a-going to take it off for a symbolical asterisked year. Yes, sir, I'm going to bathe my accentuated body with the cilt rags right on me." In other words he is going to shuck off the regimentals of military servitude and incense himself in the plain habiliments of peaceful citizenship.

KILLED.—Will Jones, a Negro section hand on the C. S. fell from a car below Junction City while grubbing for a hat that blew off another man's head and received injuries from which he died before the doctor could arrive.

EVERY JACK KNOWS IT ALL.—Mr. John Bright has explained it and we forgive him both for his wrong weather prediction and the $5 he owes us on his bad break for Sunday. This is the explanation: Once there was a king who wanted to go hunting; so he called his wisemen together to choose a spell when the weather would be good. With one accord they named a time and the king set out for his hunt. On the way he met a boy riding an ass and in order to say something to him asked what he thought of the weather. "It will be pouring down rain inside of six hours," said he. The king rode on and sure enough in a few hours it was almost raining pitchforks. When it had ceased a little he sent for the boy and asked him how he predicted so accurately. "Well," said he, "my jack turned his tail to the East and brayed early this morning and that is a sign that never fails that it will rain in six hours."

The king thereupon dismissed his weather prophets and engaged the boy and his jack. "And since then," Mr. Bright added "every jackman thinks he can forecast the weather." The reader can make his own application.

C. W. B. M.—The Christian Women's Board of Missions for the 10th district held three very interesting sessions at the Christian church yesterday, which had been becomingly arranged with flowers, plants, banners, maps, &c. Neat programs told of the order of the exercises and were given to the visitors along with a ticket for dinner by four pretty young girls, Misses Virgie Pickett, Anna Cook, Lucile Cooper and Virginia Warren, who also acted as ushers. Mrs. W. C. Shanks led the singing, which was a pleasing feature, assisted by Mesdames L. B. Cook, J. W. Hayden and A. A. Warren, and Messrs. Warren, O'Bannon, Peyton and Beazley. Miss Anne Shanks, who presided, made a very pretty introductory address, and Mrs. Will Severance a beautifully worded welcome address, which was appropriately responded to by Mrs. Jennie Carpenter, of Hustonville. Other speakers were Mrs. Nannie B. Rees, of Eminence; Miss Anne DeJarnett and Mrs. Chenault, of Richmond; Mrs. T. J. Foster, Mrs. J. W. Hayden, Mrs. C. A. Cox, Mrs. J. W. Caperton, Mrs. W. B. O'Bannon, Mrs. Stella O'Neal Hubble and Miss Frances Shanks, and each handled her subject with beauty and grace.

At noon everybody was invited to dinner in the lecture room where several large and flower bedecked tables groined under their weight of good things, splendidly prepared and served by beautiful waiters. Mrs. G. C. Glens and Mrs. John J. McRoberts were the committee in charge of this department and that means that it was excellently attended to.

Rev. W. R. Lloyd arrived from Richmond during the day and last night was to have delivered an address on the work of the ladies, which everybody acquainted with his beautiful command of language, were looking forward to with delight.

There were 180 people registered, 17 of whom came from Boyle, including Revs. J. S. Kindrick and I. M. Boswell. There were a number from Garrard and a score or so from West Lincoln. The meeting was greatly enjoyed and was a success in every particular.

PLEASE don't ask me to credit you. My prices are so low I can't afford to furnish a book and time to charge goods. After Oct. 1, I will keep no books at all. Mark Hardin.

THE court of appeals has affirmed with damages the verdict of the Lincoln circuit court giving C. F. Sallee $2,500 against the Courier-Journal, because it published that a nameless operation had been performed on him by the relatives of a woman he was alleged to have insulted. The case was tried here on a change of venue from Boyle.

HILL.—One of the oldest men and the best of democrats departed this life, when Mr. John C. Hill breathed his last Wednesday, aged 85. He was a warm hearted, clever citizen, liked by all who knew him and goes hence with no stain of dishonor on his life. He was twice married, his last wife, who was Mrs. Cosby, surviving him. The remains were taken to Danville yesterday for interment.

McKINNEY.

Ike Gillispie has moved his barber shop to Science Hill, but Campbell McKinney still "holds the fort" at this place.

The McKinney base ball club defeated the Burgin team in a contest here last week, the score resulting 28 to 8 in favor of McKinney. The boys here are jubilant over their easy victory.

Miss Alice Gooch has bought out the millinery firm of Tanner & Campbell and moved the stock to Ware's Hall, where she will strive to please her customers in both style and price of goods.

Aunt "Sooky" Lee, the old colored lady, who has lived with A. B. McKinney for many years, died, after only a few days' illness, Tuesday morning. She is said to be 100 or more years old. Her memory of the war of 1812 was clear and she delighted to tell of its horrors.

G. R. Jeter, the efficient undertaker of Middleburg, has opened a branch store of his line of goods here, and placed J. King Huston in charge. We have never had a line of such goods kept here before and while no living man really wants them, dead men must have them, and we see no reason why King should not be the proper man to supply them.

George Thomas, who was here with a small tent show, traveling as Thomas & Kaufman, about a year ago, died of typhoid fever at Estel Springs, Tenn., a few days ago and his body was shipped to this place and was met here by his father, who conveyed it to Phil Casey county, where it received interment. Mr. Thomas left a beautiful little widow, who accompanied his remains to their last resting place. She is an actress and did some clever acting when here last fall. The show has disbanded as Mr. Thomas was its manager.

Rev. Mr. Marshall, of Danville, preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon. Rev. H. Ford, the Australian minister, who has been conducting a series of meetings at the New Bethel church, will close the meeting Friday night. He has succeeded in reorganizing the church there and has the promise of the brethren for renewed efforts to keep it going in the future. May they succeed. Rev. Ford differs from most ministers, in that he refuses to accept money from non-professors of religion for his preaching, or for any church work.

Miss Hettie Moore entertained about 20 young people last Friday evening in honor of Murray Jones and Archie Riffe, the boys in blue. Miss Mattie Hughes, of Turnersville, entertained Wednesday evening in honor of James Barkley, Will Florence and Walter Cromwell "soldier boys" from the 2d Kentucky and 6th Tennessee Regiments. There is some talk of a wedding in this neck of the woods soon. Will Kennedy and Archie Riffe being the contracting parties. We would suggest that Will wait until Archie is mustered out of Uncle Sam's service, which might spare an early and painful separation.

The cannery will probably make its last run of the season's tomatoes this week. An immense amount of the succulent fruit has been handled and several car loads of the canned goods are now stocked in the building "seasoning" for shipment. Three or four cars have been shipped to wholesale merchants, who have previously learned that "McKinney Tomatoes" are as good as the best. After the last run of tomatoes will follow an experimental run or two on pumpkins, which, if satisfactory, will be extended and hereafter made a prominent branch of the business. We feel proud of our cannery and the enterprising citizens operating it. It has proven a blessing to the poor laboring people of this community, and when it is known that even little boys and girls are earning farm hand wages and being paid promptly, every day if they want it, and that probably a hundred hands are, in some way, employed by the concern, it is easy to see why we are proud to note its success. Why can't more of Lincoln's enterprising citizens put their heads and money together and establish manufacturing interests all over the county and give their people work? Some of McKinney's citizens have been making an effort to have woolen mills established here and have met with some degree of encouragement. Let them come!

Mr. and Mrs. Poppellwell, of Russell county, are visiting at D. L. Moore's. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hummelstein spent Sunday and Monday in Danville and Lexington observing a Jewish holiday. Hampton Eason and wife leave this week for their home in Ottawa, Kas. Mr. Eason was once one of Lincoln's best magistrates. Mrs. W. R. Davidson, of Somerset, spent a few days with relatives here last week. Murray Jones, son of Henry C. Jones, of Plano, Tex., who moved from here 12 years ago, then but a small boy and a member of the writer's Sunday school class, walked in and grasped his old teacher's hand last Wednesday and allowed him to guess out on identification before he would make himself known, and then enjoyed the laugh at our expense. We didn't "do a thing" to him for the next 24 hours. Murray is a soldier boy and belonged to Co. D, 2d Mo., V. I. He joined the army in Springfield, Mo., in May and was sent to Chicago.

mauga to light green flies and typhoid fever and be practiced upon. If he got sick, by Mr. McKinney's veterinary surgeon. His regiment is now at Lexington, but are expecting orders to leave for their native State. Miss Alice Gooch is visiting at Waynesburg. Mrs. Fannie Smith has returned from a visit to relatives at Livingston. Mrs. D. S. McKinney and children accompanied her and are with relatives here. Arthur Carter has given up his clerkship in "The Cyclone" and gone back to the farm. Jacob Hummelstein has a new man handling the yard stick and sellers and his name is Jacob Ezrasky. Mrs. Shelton Smith is very feeble with lung trouble. Be Welch, colored, is also very weak with same disease.

MT. VERNON.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. L. B. Adams Saturday afternoon. Bro. Ira M. Boswell will preach here next Sunday and probably begin a protracted meeting.

So much war talk has a bad effect upon some of our citizens, as small lights are quite the rage.

On last Tuesday evening a merry crowd of young people drove out to the lovely country home of Miss Carrie Lair, giving her a surprise party.

As Mr. Will Hundley and his attorney, State Inspector Lester, were going toward Brink Creek last Tuesday to take measurements at the scene of the Lawrence killing on Brush Creek, they were met by an armed posse and ordered back to town after being subjected to the most abusive language. Messrs. Hundley and Lester were unarmed and upon their return were in less amiable humor than when they started.

Mr. W. A. Morrow and wife have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Bethurum this week. Mr. Dr. J. T. Flanagan is visiting relatives in Boyle county. Miss Rachel Scott is visiting her brother, Arthur Scott. Miss Pattie Green is the guest of Mrs. W. C. Miller. Miss Ida Tyree, of Pittsburg, is visiting her cousin, Miss Rosa Gentry. Miss Ida is en route to the State W. C. T. U. convention at Louisville. Mrs. Sallie Williams and daughter, Risse, are in Louisville. Edgar Albright has returned to Centre College. Miss Emma Rieckles, after a pleasant visit home, has returned to Lexington. U. S. Marshal Short and party made a raid on moonshiners last Tuesday night.

The trial of ex-Sheriff Mullins for killing Henry Langford at Crooked Creek at the last November election was set for Thursday. The attorneys for Mullins opposed having Sheriff Catron and his deputies serve hence others were chosen to serve during the trial. Judge Lair and Supt. Davis were sent to Lincoln county to select a jury and returned with 39 of her substantial citizens. All went well for a time, the prisoner was pleased with his jury and case was about to proceed when the sheriff made a remark, which Mullins' attorneys thought was meant to influence the jury against his client and he immediately resented it. Things looked equally for a time, but Judge Morrow was equal to the occasion, the trial was postponed and the jury returned home.

LIVINGSTON ITEMS.—The Christian S. S. had an attendance of 91 pupils last Sunday. George Cook is superintendent and John McGee assistant. Mrs. Charles Stark is visiting relatives in South Carolina. Mrs. R. C. Wade is conducting a select school at her residence. John Mullins, of Frankfort, spent last week with friends here. Miss Grace Jackson and sisters, of Texas, visited friends here this week. John Cook's family has moved to Texas, where he has an excellent position with the L. & N. Gabe Lair is recovering from an attack of fever. Messrs. Blankenship and Levisay are on the sick list.

A new street has been opened back of the school-house and many new houses have been built there.

Livingston supports four large hotels. The water supply is inexhaustible here, hence the L. & N. is centering all of its works at this point.

A Kansas hog-raiser, in giving his experience in feeding hogs, says that five acres of sweet potatoes will fatten more hogs than 25 acres of corn. He had 60 hogs that would yield him 15,000 pounds of pork, and he estimates the cost of their feed at not more than $26 in actual cash for labor and other expenses in his potato field.

A CRITICAL TIME
DURING THE BATTLE OF SANTIAGO.
SICK OR WELL, A RUSH NIGHT AND DAY.

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba were all Heroes. Their Heroic Efforts in Getting Ammunition and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler, of pack-train No. 3, writing from Santiago de Cuba, on July 23, says: "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form, and when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but thanks to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, we were able to keep at work and keep our health; in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was the indirect saviour of our army, or if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our pack-train before we left Tampa, and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF STANFORD, KY.

Capital Stock $100,000. Surplus, $15,750

Attention of the public is called to the fact that this is the only National Bank in Stanford. Under the provisions of the National Bank Act depositors are secured not only by the capital stock, but by the stockholders' liability for an amount equal to the stock so that depositors of this institution are secured by a fund of $200,000. Five sworn statements of the condition of the Bank are made each year to the United States Government and its assets are examined at stated times by government agents, thus securing additional and perfect safety to depositors.

This institution originally established as the Deposit Bank of Stanford in 1858, then reorganized as the National Bank of Stanford in 1863 and again reorganized as the First National Bank of Stanford in 1864, has had practically an uninterrupted existence for 35 years. It is better supplied now with facilities for transacting business promptly and liberally than ever before in its long and honorable career. Accounts of individuals, fiduciaries, firms and individuals solicited.
